Claim:

"Its unique mineral balance and neutral pH makes it the perfect freshen-upper for all skin types, including baby's delicate skin. The millions of tiny micro-droplets are instantly absorbed, moisturising hot thirsty skin, any time anywhere.

Safe, neutral nitrogen is used to propel the droplets (80% of the air we breathe is nitrogen) so the ozone stays healthy and happy too!

Evian offers its fabulous facial spray in 4 different sizes. The 50ml canister slips discreetly into any handbag. The 150ml canister is ideal for travel. At home or at the beach, the whole family will love the 300ml and 400ml maxi sizes."

Refreshingly Cool

This is just lovely! Really refreshing and beautifully cool and gentle on your skin. Great for the time of year when the weather's getting colder and the central heating's back on again, which I always find very drying for my skin, coupled with the drying effects of spending any length of time in front of a computer screen. And it would be equally refreshing and cool on a hot summer's day. A couple of quick sprays and my skin feels fresh and moisturised. In a few seconds it soaks in and leaves no trace. Just soft refreshed skin. The 50ml is the ideal size for popping in your handbag too. Would also be ideal when travelling. Just remember to take your glasses off first!

Quenches your skins thirst

I love this product, it was so great in the summer to cool my skin down without drying it out or making it greasy. But now the time of year for central heating is upon us then are skin will try out and tend to feel tight throughout the day... especially sitting in a stuffy office. so i have some of this in my desk drawer just to freshen up and lets face it sometimes wake me up a bit more!! haha
