

Eyre Body Lotion

During the course of summer, skin can become thirsty. Humidity and warm, close air can loot the skin of essential dew. When it comes to body moisturisers, I have always utilised the amazing results that Korres Body Butter offers, but in an increasingly competitive market, Korres has been pipped to the post by, Eyre Body Lotion for Men. This revolutionary two-part botanically enriched moisturiser is readily absorbed by thirsty skin. The light gel is rich in refreshing Aloe Vera and Vitamin C, whilst the cream contains Sea Buckthorn Berry and Cocoa Butter to condition and nourish. Boosted with Amino acids, Lycopene and Vitamin B5 it will leave your skin feeling energised and refreshed. The two components combined, create the perfect thirst quenching formulation to keep your skin strokably soft and sensationally supple.
