STYLEMEN'S GROOMING

THE FALL GUY

As the temperature drops and the nights draw in, it's time to consider how the harsh Autumnal weather will affect your skin. No one loves a craggy face, so it's worth investing a few quid now. Whether you're rubbing brass pennies together or got a wallowing wallet, there's something to fit all budgets.

Ape to Gentleman

This autumn sees the launch of the definitive male grooming blog Ape to Gentleman. The blog is full of insightful bits of grooming information from the experts and brands themselves, as well as their own expert take on various grooming issues, news and products (both new and old) in the market. Need to find out about a specific male grooming ailment? No problem, email the editors a topic and they'll write an article especially for you. Word has it this blog can help you evolve from the metaphorical ape to a well-groomed modern day gent.

WIN They tried to make me go to Rehab.....

And I said yes yes yes. (Sorry-couldn't resist.) To celebrate our tenth birthday the lovely folk at Rehab London have given us 10 everyday essentials packs-including scrubs, moisturiser and post shave balm to give away. The new grooming luxury brand's product is 100% ethical, with recycled packaging, and-concentrate, here's the science bit-all of the products are free of parabens, SLS's and sulfates, which means they don't harm the skin, and leave behind no chemical residue.

Steve Jones and Dermot O'Leary are already fans, so if you fancy giving your skin some star treatment head over to our website and enter the competition why don't you?
