Take control of your money

The latest innovations in mobile banking mean it's now easier to keep track of your money wherever you are. Here's how:

- Choose a bank account with a free text alert service such as First Direct or Barclays, and opt to be over a text if your account goes below a specified amount.
- Moneysack has taken this idea a step further. Sign up and you can request a mini-statement on bank balances to your mobile any time you like. Banks using this service include HSBC, Post West and Alliance & Leicester. It's currently free but will cost around 50p per statement and 50p for a balance from February if you get £50 paid into your account when you register for further information, go to www.moneysack.co.uk.

Beauty for less WEBSITE OF THE WEEK

www.dove.co.uk has some great home hair with up to 60 per cent off selected items. There are coffee tables slashed from £75 to £49, leather chairs down from £89 to £54.9 and more reduced from £69 to £29.

- SkinVitals face and eye masks claim to brighten and tighten your skin and reduce dark circles in 15 minutes. They usually cost £2.99 each but are now selling two-for-one in Boots until the end of April.
- The Toni & Guy Palm Dryer is smaller and more compact than many hairdryers but still packs a powerful 1800w of drying power and has four heat settings, including cool shot. Buy it now at Matalan for £20, instead of the usual RRP of £39.99.
