The multi-taskers

Save yourself space and cash by using beauty essentials that do more than one job. Sarah Purcell reports

Beauty

Dry-skin remover & lip balm

Before applying lipstick, use this to remove dry skin patches and hydrate your lips. It'll give a more even, long-lasting finish.
Try: Blistex Lip Massage, £2.49.

Clear nail polish & nail strengthener

You can use this on its own to strengthen nails and prevent breakage, as a base coat to stop polish staining your nails, or as a shiny top coat after applying nail polish.
Try: Sally Hansen Double Duty base and top coat, £4.25.

Highlighter for eyes, lips, cheeks & body

If you only have room in your bag for a couple of beauty essentials, make this one of them. These hard-working sticks are loved by make-up artists and celebrities alike. Use the cream stick to add shimmer and highlight to cheeks, eyes, lips and body.
Try: NARS The Multiple, £27 (www.narscosmetics.co.uk).

Cleanser & face mask

It was probably the only skincare product your mum had, but it's just as relevant today. Use it to cleanse skin, removing with a warm flannel, as a hydrating face mask, an eye make-up remover and a hand cream.
Try: POND'S Cold Cream Cleanser, £3.99.

Toothpaste, whitener & mouthwash

Freshen your mouth any time. The mineral-rich liquid removes stains from teeth and freshens breath, or you can put a few drops in water and use as a mouthwash.
Try: Dead Sea Magik Fresh 'n White; 15ml tube, £1.95; 70ml bottle, £5.95 (Holland & Barrett, Debenhams, John Lewis).

Hair conditioner & shaving gel

Apart from keeping your hair looking healthy, you can use this conditioner as a moisturising shaving gel, too.
Try: L'Oréal Elvive Re-Nutrition Replenishing Masque, £4.99.
